

Historical and Minute Record

NUMBER ONE

Ward Sunday School

Elkhorn Branch

Stake of Zion

CONTAINS RECORD FROM

3rd Nov 1908

TO

18 July 1915

INSTRUCTIONS.

The object in keeping this record is that a complete history of the school may be preserved, and in order to accomplish this, three distinct records are bound in one, viz: A "Historical Record," providing for the recording of names of all officers of the school, with date of appointment, and date and explanation of release of each; a "Minute Record," providing for the minutes of each school session, followed by Quarterly and Annual Summaries; and a "Record of Teachers' Meeting Minutes."

Before commencing work on the record the secretary should study the forms carefully, becoming thoroughly familiar with them.

In recording the officers, enter one given name in full and other initials, and record all changes promptly as they occur.

It will be observed that sixteen pages, comprising fourteen sets of minutes, one quarterly summary, and one page for remarks, constitutes a quarter's record of the school. When only thirteen Sundays in a quarter, leave the fourteenth page, or set of minutes, blank, and begin the new quarter with the first page following the quarterly summary and remarks.

When reading minutes it is not necessary to read attendance by departments, but only totals and comparisons.

Be very careful to supply all information required in both quarterly and annual summaries.

Use "Remarks" pages for explanation of conditions shown in summaries, and recording historical events of importance.

The quarterly summary should be read as a report at the first meeting of officers and teachers following the close of each quarter, and the annual summary as an annual report at the first meeting following the close of each year.

The minutes of teachers' meetings should be concise, but contain a complete record of all business transacted, and the attendance at each session.

All changes of officers and teachers, reports of committees and department principals are of particular importance in showing the condition and progress of the school.

One page should be utilized for the minutes of each meeting.
